Dear Samantha,

I hope all is well with you. After reading your MySpace blog regarding Prop 2 and Prop 8 in the California election, I felt compelled to reach out to you.

The passing of Prop 2 is a monumental victory that will afford millions of animals the opportunity to stand up, turn around, and spread their wings, and it should be celebrated by everyone who cares about animals. To all of us at PETA, and all the other animal rights people who also protested the passage of Prop 8 by standing on street corners, working the phones, and talking to friends and family about the bigotry of Prop 8—this isn't a "one or the other" situation. Abusing animals is always wrong, and discriminating against gays is always wrong. We'll continue to fight against the ban on gay marriage, and we hope that we can have your support in our efforts to eliminate cruelty to animals.

Please use your considerable influence to encourage your fans to resist oppression for humans and animals alike.

Best regards,

Michelle Cho
